

Leadership for Infection Prevention Audio Conference Call
October 8 , 2008 11 am-12 Noon

As part of our continuing outreach to hospital leadership, we are inviting Massachusetts hospital leaders to participate in the first of our Leadership for Infection Prevention Conference Calls.

Please join us on an audio-conference call to learn how the leadership at the Mount Auburn Hospital has executed their strategy for infection prevention. Mount Auburn CEO Jeanette Clough and Dr. Susan Abookire, Chair, Department of Quality and Safety, will describe their approach, engaging the board and front line staff, which has created an environment for successful change. Learn how an integrated approach to infection prevention and quality yielded substantial improvements.

We are striving to support leadership in infection prevention in ways that can fit easily into your busy schedules. The cost will be modest, $15.00 per phone line, and you are free to call in from wherever you like. Please take one hour out of your day to learn and share with your colleagues, and join the state-wide effort to prevent hospital-acquired infections.
